"PEABODY TAVERN" ENTERED ON NATIONAL REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES

The Peabody Tavern in Gilead has been entered on the National Register of Historic Places according to Earle G. Shettleworth, Jr., Director of the Maine Historic Preservation Commission. This designation officially places it among the Nation's historic and cultural resources considered worthy of recognition and preservation.

Built about 1800, this fine old structure, hidden in a remote valley in the hills of western Maine, provides an important link with the settlement of the area and the early years of transportation in the White Mountain region.

The tavern was built by Thomas Peabody of Andover, Mass., whose uncle, Oliver Peabody, had been one of the first settlers on the "Peabody Patent", as the area was known, in 1781. A few yards north of the building is the Peabody Cemetery containing the graves of several members of the family including Thomas' son, John, who became a successful lumber manufacturer and served as Justice of the Peace, member of the State Legislature, and Captain in the militia.

For many years the Peabody Tavern was an important stop on the stage route from Portland to Lancaster, New Hampshire and later served in the same capacity when the railroad was put through.

BETHEL FIRE DEPARTMENT OPEN HOUSE, SAT., JAN. 15

The Bethel Fire Department is holding an Open House on Saturday, Jan. 15, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. to explain the necessity of early warning in home fires and the use of smoke detection devices.

The Fire Department and Statitrol Corporation of Lakewood, Colo., have initiated a program to provide a group purchase opportunity on home smoke alarms for area residents.

According to Bethel fire chief Burnham Rice, the program is being sponsored by the Fire Department in an effort to protect every resident from the unpredictable outcome of nighttime fire.

Chief Rice cited a recent Wall Street Journal article, which told of a similar program carried out two years ago, where the fire chief of Monroeville, Pa., hit upon the idea of using the cities purchasing power to obtain discounts on the alarms for town residents. Bids were solicited on a 2000 alarm order and 17 manufacturers responded. The department eventually chose Statitrol Corporation as its supplier.

According to the article, about 1900 residents received protection through that program at a substantial savings. The alarms, installed on the ceiling with two screws are recommended near the sleeping areas and closed cellarway to alert the family to safety in the event of fire.

Chief Rice, who learned of the program through the Journal article, has found out that, "There are about 6000 detectors allocated for Northern New England and we'd like a chance at some". The unit available through this group program has a built-in battery power monitor which enables one to see by a flashing red light which shows at a glance that the six 1.5 batteries have enough power to sound the alarm when needed. WEEK'S SNOW STORMS DUMP 20 INCHES IN AREA

A snow fall of from 6 to 7 inches last Friday was followed on Monday of this week by a blizzard-like storm which left about 13 inches.

Schools in S. A. D. #44 were closed on Monday and Tuesday due to the storm and its aftermath. Several area businesses curtailed their operations because of the storm.

Pleasant, though chilly, weather prevailed over the week end. Midweek temperatures have again descended to the sub-zero range, with a 10:30 reading of +4° F. at the Citizen Office this Thursday morning.

PINELAND SKI CLUB PLANNING WINTER CARNIVAL—SATURDAY, FEB. 26

The Pineland Ski Club of Andover is busy making plans for its annual winter carnival, which will be held on Saturday, Feb. 26. The theme selected for this year is "Winter Wonderland".

The following committees have been appointed: Carnival Chairman, Mrs. Leon Akers; Trophies and Events, Leon Akers, Leon Dunn, Junior Miller, Otis Morton, Dwight Hutchins; Publicity, Charlie Jaros and Dave Belanger; Queen and Gifts, Colleen Jaros and Helen Deans; Band, Dave and Betsy Belanger; Pageant Committee, Louise Miller, Betsy Belanger; Crown and Robe Committee, Evelyn Bodemer and Colleen Jaros; Decorating Committee, Virginia Morton, Louise Miller, Evelyn Bodemer, Betsy Belanger, Ellen Hutchins and Carol Morton.

FORMER BETHEL MAN JOINS MUSKIE STAFF

Charles A. Jacobs, 28, of Dexter, formerly of Bethel, has joined the Washington staff of Maine Senator Ed Muskie. Muskie announced the appointment last Friday, saying that Jacobs would serve as one of three legislative assistants in the 95th Congress, with chief responsibility in the area of human services.

Jacobs, born in St. Stephen, N. B., and a lifelong Maine resident, is a graduate of Gould Academy and the University of Maine, and has done postgraduate work at the U. of M.

Jacobs was a member of Maine's last Executive Council, also served as a special assistant to then-governor Kenneth M. Curtis in 1976 and 1974. Jacobs was a field coordinator for the Maine for Muskie Committee in 1976.

low power signal will alert the homeowner to change the battery after about a year. The manufacturer specifications show that the unit will not alarm in a room full of smokers, yet will detect invisible products of combustion.

"We are hoping that the alarms will help us keep our records free of deaths in home fires," said Chief Rice. "Although we do not expect to protect every home through a program of this type, we do hope to make every homeowner aware of the need for that protection," he added.

As an additional service, the Bethel Fire Department will, as in the past, have fire extinguishers available for purchase by local residents.

NO FLUORIDE BEING ADDED

Due to a malfunction in the system fluoride is not presently being added to Bethel's water supply. Residents will be notified when repairs have been made.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Board of Selectmen met in regular session Tuesday night, Jan. 11, and acted on a variety of items. This meeting had originally been scheduled for Monday night but was postponed due to the snow storm.

Wallace Saunders of Hanover Dowel Company met with the Board to discuss the valuation of the company property. Following considerable discussion, the Board agreed to review the valuation taking into consideration the information presented.

Mrs. Joan Moorehead met with the Board to discuss the possibility of a town meeting warrant article to allow housing for low-income families and persons in Bethel. Mrs. Moorehead indicated that they would like to have 10 units of the recently constructed elderly housing facility on Evergreen Road designated as low-income elderly housing. The Board tabled action on the request until the next meeting.

Minutes of the Jan. 4 and 5 meetings were approved and the Board directed the Town Manager to write the Board of Selectmen of Denmark to offer to meet with them to discuss their questions about undertaking a revaluation project.

In response to a letter from Charlene Lever of Oxford County Community Services, inviting the Board to observe the activities at the West Bethel Children's Center, the Board directed the manager to set up a date when the Board could meet with her to visit the center. Board members felt it important that the visit take place when the center was in session.

No bids were received on the 1974 Chevrolet police car being sold and the Board directed the manager to place ads in the Bethel, Norway and Lewiston papers indicating that bids would again be received until the 24th of January. The Board set a minimum bid of $650 on the vehicle.

The Board discussed the Oxford County Municipal Association meeting to be held Wednesday night in Locke Mills. The agenda for the meeting will be discussions of priorities for the Maine Municipal Association in their work with the 108th Legislature.

The Town Manager asked the Board for their priorities in order that they could be conveyed to the association. Issues discussed included: municipal liability, the inventory tax, school funding, food stamps, town road improvement and state aid funds, welfare reimbursements, and property revaluation.

The Board then continued discussion on the 1977 budget. In line with budget discussions, the Board went into executive session to discuss employee personnel questions. The meeting adjourned at 10:50 p. m.

Dog licenses for 1977 are available now at the Town Office. Dog owners are urged to license their dogs as soon as possible.

The next meeting of the Board of Selectmen will be Monday night, Jan. 17, when they will continue review of the 1977 budget.

BLACKSMITH FEATURED AT SOCIETY MEETING JAN. 6

At the monthly meeting of the Bethel Historical Society held on Thursday, Jan. 6, in the meeting room of the Moses Mason House, a program on the blacksmith was featured. Once a familiar sight in most towns and villages in a by-gone era, his craft has almost disappeared. Two films were shown illustrating the use of tools and the wide range of items that the blacksmith made. Also on display were some blacksmith tools and objects fashioned by him. A list of Bethel blacksmiths was circulated, beginning with the earliest days and continuing to the present. One of Bethel's remaining blacksmiths, Albert Skillings was present and answered many questions about his craft. Refreshments followed the program.

Bethel blacksmiths of the past included Charles Russell, Middle Intervale; Oliver Fenno, Robertson Hill; George Bean, West Bethel Village; Fletcher Kendall, West Bethel Village; A. C. Frost, High Street; later West Bethel Village; Harry D. Hastings, Corner Main and Vernon; Eugene Bean, East Bethel; J. C. Billings, Mechanic Street; W. D. Hastings, E. P. Holt, J. Abbott, Moses T. Cross, Mill Hill; Pinckney Burnham, Mill Hill; John Hastings, Broad Street; Isaac Morrill, Mill Hill; Norman Jodrey, Fritz Tyler, Wallace Warren, High Street; John Decatur Hastings, East Bethel; W. D. Mason, West Bethel Village; Edwin Mason, West Bethel Village; P. F. Hastings, North Bethel; E. H. Foster, Walter Bartlett. A. S. M. S. A. D. #44 DIRECTORS TO MEET AT TELSTAR NEXT MONDAY EVENING

The board of directors of M. S. A. D. #44 is scheduled to hold a regular meeting in the Library at Telstar Regional High School next Monday evening, Jan. 17, at 7:30.

Action of the board will be requested on the matter of revision of current board policy on Student Suspension and Detention. This matter was tabled at the last meeting of the board following extended discussion. The published agenda carried recommendations that the board pass over this item because of board input at the Jan. 3 meeting and high school administrative emphasis on strengthening the present system.

Representatives from the Mooney Engineering Firm are to present their findings in an Energy Audit Report in the following schools: Telstar, Woodstock and Ethel Bisbee Elementary Schools.

Another agenda item will be a request for a band trip on either March 26 or April 22. The Telstar Band desires to go to Berwick on an overnight trip for an exchange concert. Fifty students and chaperones would be involved in this annual program.

Action will be requested on used school bus bids and on expected recommendations of the Finance Committee for resolution of the current budget problem.

Job descriptions for an Elementary Supervisor, Telstar Middle School Supervising Principal and Elementary Teaching Principal will be submitted for board action.

The board is scheduled for action regarding the appointment of a financial advisor for the Telstar Yearbook, and on the superintendent's nominations for the following Adult Education positions: Western Civilization, Knitting, Macrame, Typing and Shorthand, Creative Writing, House Plant Care, and Psychology.

There is scheduled to be a review of the current year's budget (fiscal year 1977), and a discussion of procedures for calling off school.

SALVATION ARMY HAS SUCCESSFUL DRIVE

The response to the Christmas appeal for the Bethel Unit Salvation Army was heart-warming and the committee wishes to express its appreciation for the generosity bestowed at this time.

This last year the local unit which consists of the towns of Andover, Bethel, Greenwood, Hanover, Upton, Newry and Woodstock has helped fire victims, gas for stranded travelers, five families with sickness and heavy hospital bills, and Christmas offerings to deserving families.

The officers of the local unit wish to thank everyone for their contributions. "You gave so that others could be just a little happier."

BICENTENNIAL COMMITTEE SEALS TIME CAPSULE

At the final meeting of the Bethel Bicentennial Committee held jointly with the Bethel Historical Society on Thursday, Jan. 6, in the meeting room of the Moses Mason House, Chairman Robert Keniston officially sealed the time capsule. Some eight or ten men, with their teams left this place last week for Gorham, N. H., where they will remain during the winter, hauling cord wood.

The people of this vicinity were much pleased with the fall term of school in district No. 6 which was taught by Miss Dolly Brown of Hanover. Miss Brown is an excellent teacher, and is to teach the winter term in the same district.

The school on Kimball Hill is taught by Charles Bean, District No. 7, Miss May Hastings, District No. 8, F. D. Bartlett.

Mr. J. F. Rich is about to start for Florida.

The hops in this vicinity, being a large crop, remain unsold as yet.

West Bethel
The extreme cold and the manner in which the snow is disposed of is a hindrance to public travel and lumbering interests. The high northwest wind of late sweeps the snow from the open grounds, into huge piles beside fences and other obstructions. Travelers are snow bound at times for several days before the roads can be made passable.

The low condition of springs causes people much extra unpleasant labor in procuring water for their stock and to supply their houses. In some of our rough days, when the air is blinding with wind driven snow, it is almost impossible to drive stock across an open field one-half mile to get water. They would go without several days before they would start out on such a trip on their own accord. An aqueduct of running water is a blessing that every farmer should make an extra effort to enjoy. Such a blessing, within my knowledge, furnishes water for the house, stable and barn; running in fir logs a distance of twenty five rods; and since the first cost, which was not large, does not average an expense of over one dollar a year to keep it in good running order. I would go to the extra expense of putting down such a convenience, in preference to using wells after they were all dug and bricked up.

MT. ABRAM FISH AND GAME TO MEET THURSDAY, JAN 20

Joseph Mason and family have been suffering with typhoid fever, but now are convalescent.

C. L. Allen, station agent, has been confined to the house most of the time for seventeen weeks, caused by a wrench received while handling freight. He is now on duty again.

Postmaster Bean has made a neat improvement, in the form of an office in his store for his, and also for the business of the P. O. department.

Bean & Mason are not receiving large lots of lumber in their mill yard as yet.

On the evening of January 1st there was an entertainment at Union Hall, consisting of music, recitations, dialogues, tableaux, &c. The &c. was the ceremony of marriage, of Rev. S. J. Gould and Miss M. Ella Cummings of Albany, by Rev. Mr. Raymond of Harrison.

A quilt disposed of by the Ladies' Aid was voted to the bride; after which the presents from two well laden trees were distributed among the crowd.

The special meeting of Oxford Pomona Grange, appointed at Union Hall in this place on the 2nd inst., for the installation of their officers, did not receive a quorum; owing to the fact that the day was so rough and the roads were so impassable, that no one could get here from a distance with their teams. A goodly number of Pleasant Valley Grange was present with refreshments and entertained the few that were here with pleasure. The officers of P. V. Grange were installed by Bro. A. W. Valentine of Bethel Grange as follows: E. G. Charles, M.; A. A. Grover, O.; John Barker, L.; A. K. Scribner, E.; W. A. Farwell, A. S.; Rev. S. J. Gould, Chap.; D. B. Grover, Treas.; D. E. Mills, Sec.; John Needham, G. K.; Miss A. M. Needham, C.; Miss L. M. Farwell, P.; Mrs. E. G. Wheeler, F.; Miss I. L. Main, L. A. S.

West Bethel

Mrs. Lona Gilbert, Corres. — This week started with a nice day on Sunday in this area. Several took advantage of the nice day to run their snow machines, go skiing and snow shoeing. As of Monday, snowing hard, a few inches during the night. The weatherman predicts a heavy storm. High winds along the coast.

Jane Childs and friend of Hyannis, Mass., came Sunday to spend a few days with Mrs. Grace Morrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thurston and Mrs. Lillian Thurston of Norway, visited me, Sunday.

Ray West expects to have surgery for a ruptured disk in his back on Thursday at Veteran's hospital, Togus. The West children will stay with the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Lovejoy, Flat Road, while their dad is in the hospital.

Little Rebecca West celebrated her second birthday recently at the home of her grandparents, the Cleveland Lovejoys. Ice cream and birthday cake were enjoyed. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. West and son, Christopher and Rebecca, of South Rumford.

Hathaway Reports

Sen. William D. Hathaway — Elimination of the Senate Committee on Veterans Affairs is one of the proposed changes currently being considered in the Senate Committee System reform package. Many Maine veterans and the majority of the 30 million veterans across the country are understandably concerned about the wisdom of this change. I am one of them.

Under the proposal now being evaluated by the Senate Rules Committee, the Veterans' Committee functions would be transferred instead to a new Committee on Human Resources. This new "umbrella" committee would also have jurisdiction over many of the matters now handled by the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee as well as the welfare and assistance programs now handled by a number of other committees.

This change is being proposed as a means of helping to streamline the Senate Committee System to increase both efficiency and effectiveness. It has been over 30 years since the last major reform, and the committees and subcommittees in Congress have mushroomed in that time—much the same way the federal bureaucracy has grown by leaps and bounds in the same period. And few will doubt that reforms are definitely needed in both areas if we are to make government and the Congress more responsive to the needs of the people they serve.

Through careful and extensive research, a specially authorized Senate Panel studied the functions of all the 31 standing Senate Committees and the 174 Subcommittees. It had become virtually impossible for any Senator to attend all the meetings and keep up with the legislation for all the numerous committees and subcommittees to which he had been assigned. For example, it has not been unusual for a Senator to have several different committee activities scheduled for the same time on the same day. The work of all committees and Senators has thereby suffered. The goal of the panel was to find ways in which the number of standing committees could be reorganized to reduce the potential of conflicting schedules and to increase each Senator's ability to participate as fully as possible in all committee matters.

It was on this basis that the panel examined the Veterans Affairs Committee and found that, though the committee had broad oversight over federal programs totaling nearly $20 billion in benefits and services per year, its legislative activity was largely confined to fine-tuning amendments to existing legislation. And it was on these findings that the panel concluded that another committee could assume the responsibilities of veterans affairs' legislation.

However, the resulting recommendation to switch veterans' affairs matters to a new Human Resources Committee is not in the interests of either great efficiency or more effective service. This new "super" Committee would undoubtedly have its hands full with the pressing problems of employment, education and health. The needs and concerns of the veterans and their families might not command sufficient attention. It would be better, as I have proposed, to consolidate the Veterans Affairs Committee with the Senate Committee on Armed Services, and to change the name of the Committee to reflect this added jurisdiction, formally recognizing thereby the inestimable debt the country owes to all its veterans.

Under the new Armed Services and Veterans Affairs Committee, veterans would benefit by becoming directly associated with the committee which presently has jurisdiction over existing programs affecting many of them, such as retired pay. Veterans could also play a greater role in influencing legislation of particular interest to them—the overall level of our national security, the relative merits of procuring various weapons systems, the preparedness of our armed forces and so on.

Such a merger would 1) place legislative responsibility for meeting these needs in a much more logical place than that of a huge Human Resources Committee and 2) give added impetus to the needs of our veterans. As the Senate continues its reform deliberations over the next few weeks, I will continue to press for this compromise which would help, not hinder, the special needs of our veterans.

BILL COHEN

From Congress

As a member of both the House
Small Business Committee and the House Select Committee on Aging
I have become very concerned about the impact of government regulations and paperwork on the cost of medical care.

There are approximately 400,000
physicians in the United States, of which the vast majority are in private practice. Private physicians must constitute one of the largest classes of small businessmen in this country.

According to the Commission on Federal Paperwork, the Medicare and Medicaid programs together generated more than 200 million claims in 1975. The costs associated with completing and processing this volume of claims is enormous, and it is complicated by the variance in reimbursement procedures and forms among the three separate agencies share the administrative responsibility for supervising and reviewing these programs at the Federal level.

As a result, physicians are exercising their option under the Medicare program to have the patient complete these complex claim forms. Fewer than 50% of all Medicare forms are now completed by the physician. Since patient completed forms routinely contain one or more errors, this trend increases the time and money spent by the Federal agencies to process these forms.

Likewise, the Council on Wage and Price Stability just completed a year-long study of inflation in the field of health care. In the Council's final report, it states that most Federal intervention in health care has raised — not lowered — costs, despite our best intentions to the contrary.

One of the recommendations of the Commission on Federal Paperwork was for a simplified and standardized Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement claims form for all health care providers. Such a form should help reduce the public and private administrative costs associated with these programs, and I support this recommendation wholeheartedly.

Because of my strong desire to see prompt Congressional action in this area, I have asked Congressman John Breckinridge, chairman of the House Small Business Subcommittee on Activities of Regulatory Agencies, to initiate a Subcommittee, examination of the effect of government regulation on the medical costs. I believe that our Subcommittee should attempt to identify other areas where excessive government regulation or paperwork may contribute to higher health care costs for the consumer, and I hope Chairman Breckinridge will move quickly on my request.

Homeowner's Energy Conservation Act
During the first week of the 95th Congress, I introduced legislation which I believe can be an effective incentive to encourage homeowners to save precious heating oil through energy-saving home improvements.

It is an alarming and shameful
fact that Americans, as a society, waste at least one-third of the total energy we consume. 90% of existing housing in this country is seriously deficient with regard to insulation. The average uninsulated house with 1,600 square feet of space wastes about 700 gallons of fuel oil each year;
a partially insulated house wastes approximately 200 gallons.

My bill seeks to encourage fuel conservation by amending the Internal Revenue Code to permit a tax credit for 25% of amounts paid for the installation of more effective insulation and heating equipment in existing residential structures, up to a total of $375, or $750 in the case of a joint return.

This bill would be especially pertinent for relatively minor improvements, such as installing storm windows and doors, which nevertheless can substantially reduce fuel consumption.

The importance of establishing some positive efforts to encourage energy conservation in the home cannot be overstated, and the cost of this legislation in the long term would be more than offset by the benefits which would accrue to the nation as a result of decreased energy demands.

CHURCH UNITY

Dr. J. Philip Jackson
Community Church,
Rumford Center

Our hymn books are a wonderful proof of the unity among the churches. No truly satisfying hymn book is completely modern or completely denominational.

We thank God for modern spiritual songs; we also appreciate the old ones. "God moves in a mysterious way" was written by Cowper 202 years ago. Charles Wesley wrote "Hark the Herald
Angels Sing" 232 years ago. "O God, our help in ages past" was penned by Dr. Isaac Watts, 258 years ago, and we don't want to dispense with that! And all of us, Evangelical and Ecumenical, agree that we need "Praise God
From Whom all blessings flow."

This was penned by Bishop Ken in 1897! Cardinal Newman, a Roman Catholic, wrote "Lead Kindly Light."

"Jesus, Lover of my soul"
came from the heart of Charles Wesley, a Methodist. "Eternal Light" came from Dr. Binney, a Congregationalist. Whittier wrote
"Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," a Quaker. Bishop Heber, an Episcopalian, wrote "The Son of God Goes Forth to War," George Matheson, a Presbyterian, wrote
"Oh love, that will not let me go."

"Blest be the tie that binds" was by a Baptist, and many of our hymns are written by Pentecost-als. And whatever our attitude to the present "ordination of women" in the Episcopal church, it cannot be denied that some of our finest hymns were and are written by Godly women!

Your denominational name matters not with God! If your heart is right with Him, He will put a new song in your mouth! "One Lord, One Faith, One Baptism."
We Are One in The Spirit!

MUNDT-ALLEN UNIT #81

The Mundt-Allen Unit #81 met at the Legion Hall for their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening, Jan. 11.

The meeting opened in form with President Mona Lowe, presiding. Owing to the weather conditions a small number was in attendance. Josephine Tripp served as secretary and Edna Tripp as sergeant-at-arms for the evening. In the absence of the regular officers, Arlene Bean will serve as treasurer for the winter months.

A short business meeting followed. An application for membership from Abigail Buswell was read and accepted. President Lowe gave her the obligation and one more membership for the local Auxiliary.

Jodi Brooks will attend the midwinter conference at Waterville
Jan. 23-24 and will represent the Mundt-Allen Unit.

A report of the Oxford County Council held at Locke Mills on Dec. 21 at the Jackson-Silver Post and Unit #68 was host for the evening. Jeri Brooks and Adeline Dexter attended. A Christian Party was on the agenda. The Council will meet at South Paris
on Jan. 19. Vice Commander Fred Fisher of South China will be a guest.

It was reported that Grace Westleigh is at the Norway hospital, and Rose Taylor and Iola Forbes are recuperating at their homes following the "flu".

The next meeting of the Mundt-
Allen Unit will be held Feb. 8.

Letters to the Editor
Jan. 10, 1977

To the Editor:
On Behalf of the Bethel Bicentennial Committee, I would like to publicly express the deepest appreciation to Bob Keniston for serving as chairman during an eventful 1976. Although he has been more than generous in praising others, he deserves a full measure of commendation for his many contributions to the success of the Bicentennial effort in Bethel.

Again, many thanks from a grateful committee.

Sincerely,
Stanley R. Howe,
Secretary-Treasurer

Read Acts 4:5-14
"They marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus." (Acts 4:13)

Everyone who loves Jesus and attempts to live the Christian life has the privilege of helping others get to know Jesus, too.

H. L. Gee, an interesting writer, has told about staying on a farm during World War II, where the farmer and his wife lived happy Christian lives. A young girl came to the farm to work. She had no use for the church or what it stood for in traditional Christianity. But by the way this couple lived she was compelled to see that there must be something in religion which produced such loving people. When H. L. Gee was leaving the farm, she told him that she had come to see what Christianity was all about.

It is wonderful to think that perhaps there is someone in our office or road who may find the joy of Christian living because of what we are.

PRAYER: Lord God, help us to be aware of the opportunities each day presents. Help in our living to commend Christ as Lord and Savior. In His name
we pray. Amen.

on some Legislation after Public

Included in these bills are:

UMO SAVING ON FUEL COSTS
DURING SEMESTER BREAK

The University of Maine at Orono's energy conservation program during the break between semesters from Dec. 23 to Jan. 23 is expected to save the institution between $17,000 and $20,000 in fuel costs. In primary, UMO has disconnected 76 primary telephone lines and 58 secondary or extension lines during this period at an additional savings of $440. Some 20 buildings on the campus have had thermostats set back to 55 degrees as a principal fuel saving move. A drop of 15% in the rate of consumption of steam has already been recorded since the start of the break.

Farmers and fishermen who have not filed their 1976 declaration of estimated Federal income tax must file and pay that tax by Monday, Jan. 17. The sole exception to this rule is if they file their income tax return and pay the total tax due by March 1, the Internal Revenue Service states.

Farmers and fishermen are defined as those persons who earned at least two-thirds of their 1976 gross income from farming or fishing.

IRS Publications 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," 595, "Tax Guide for Commercial Fisherman" and 505, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," provide additional information and are available free at the Augusta IRS office.

an estimate if they owe the IRS more than $100 not covered by withholding. The estimates in this case are due Jan. 17.

There is one exception to this rule, the IRS said, and that's when taxpayers file their returns and pay all taxes due by Jan. 31. In that case the final 1976 installment is not required, the amended declaration is not required nor is an original Jan. 17 declaration required.

APPLICATIONS FOR DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES
GRANTS BEING ACCEPTED

The Maine Council on Developmental Disabilities has announced that project applications are being accepted for grants totaling $100,000 to be awarded in April. Funds are from Maine's federal allotment for programs for the developmentally disabled.

According to Thomas Stripling, acting DD planning coordinator, this population includes the autistic, mentally retarded, cerebral palsied, epileptic and persons handicapped by related conditions.

Grants, not to exceed $25,000 each, for development of early intervention programs including services for prevention, genetic counseling and early childhood development; housing programs developing one or more of the following: small six-bed living situations, semi-independent and independent apartments, specialized foster home programs and group residential situations; research and development projects with innovative, creative and/or experimental approaches to service planning and delivery and the development of local day activities and training programs.

All projects are encouraged to provide services to the autistic and must include provisions for education and family support.

Any governmental or non-profit private agency or association interested in applying should contact Stripling at the Department of Mental Health and Corrections,

CENSUS BUREAU TO TAKE EMPLOYMENT SURVEY HERE

Local representatives of the Bureau of the Census will conduct a survey of employment in this area during the work week of Jan. 17-22, Arthur G. Dukakis, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Boston, has announced. The survey is conducted for the U. S. Department of Labor in a scientifically designed sample of approximately 70,000 households throughout the United States. Employment and unemployment statistics based on results of this survey are used to provide a continuing measure of the economic health of the Nation.

For example, in November the survey indicated that of the 95.9 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 88.1 million were employed. The Nation's unemployment rate was 8.1 percent, upon from 7.9 percent in October but substantially below the recession peak of 8.9 percent reached in the second quarter of 1975.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

State Office Building, Augusta 04333.

The grant intent statements must be submitted by Jan. 24.

About the only creatures stirring this morning are a few brave woodpeckers searching for a few morsels of food. The new fallen snow is certainly a beautiful sight as it collects on the trees and shrubs, but it is a menace to those who must travel in it.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Andrews and Kelly were Sunday dinner guests of his mother, Mrs. Sarah Andrews.

Albert and Elma McAllister called on their daughter, Alberta White and family on Saturday.

Last Tuesday seven members of the United Parish workshop met at the home of Alice and Arthur Wardwell.

Debbie and Duane Millett visited Dan and Jean Reynolds on Sunday and they all went snowshoeing.

Wednesday, Edith Hathaway of Bryant Pond, spent the day with her sister, Alice Wardwell.

Ivy Philbrook called on Hugh and Edith Stearns on Thursday.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Stearns called on their daughter, Janice and family in Lewiston.

Things have been quite busy at K-D's Acres this past week. Callers have been June and Michelle Inman, Margaret Barton and Brett and Jimmy, and Ivy Philbrook. On Thursday, Dougie and I went to Lewiston with June and Michelle Inman. Sunday night supper guests were my parents, Mr. and Mrs. LaForest Twitchell.

My usually quiet Monday did not materialize as school was called off and Dick is home for the day. I guess all one can do on a day like today is sit close to the fire and watch the snow fall and the wind swirl it around! Happy shoveling!

Miss Amy Hanscom, Corres.

Ladies of the Oxford County Extension Group are scheduled to meet with Elsie Inman for an afternoon meeting, Jan. 19. The subject is macramé with Jane Grover, leader.

Mother's Club, which was cancelled on Monday due to the storm, will be held next Monday, Jan. 17, at the previously scheduled time and place. A white elephant sale will be held.

The Harrison Area Bookmobile will stop on Jan. 17 at Bear River Cabins from 3 to 3:30 p. m.

The Selectmen met Tuesday, Jan. 4, for a special session. A tax abatement of $45.54 was granted to the Sunday River Skiway because of an error in acreage.

Some work was done on the Annual Town Report and a Budget meeting was held. The Selectmen's budget for 1977 totaled $20,788.44. It is anticipated that approximately $4,000 of this will be taken from Federal Revenue Sharing, leaving $16,788.44 to be raised by taxation, compared to $16,108.94 by taxation last year. This is in addition to the State and County Tax and the School Budget. Under the Tree Growth Tax Law $17,501.11 is due the Town from the State in the fall of 1977, to cover tax years 1975 and 1976. A portion of this should be used in 1978 and the balance in 1979 to help reduce taxes for these years.

During the year $400.81 in tax liens, plus $46.65 were paid, with $755.21 in liens remaining unpaid Dec. 31.

At the close of books Dec. 31, all operating accounts either balanced off or showed an unexpended balance. Total of these unexpended balances $30,135.35. Of this amount $5,097.75 is in a Highway Equipment Fund, set aside to buy new equipment for the Highway Dept., and $6,334.70 is in the unexpended surplus account. Unexpended balances in operating accounts are carried forward to the next year, to help reduce appropriations for that year. The Town also has $4,834.02 in a Day In Day Out Savings Account, which is left to draw interest, and is available to the Treasurer when needed.

The warrant for the annual town meeting which will be held at the Bear River Grange Hall, March 7, at 7 p. m., contains 44 articles, most of them routine. One is to see if the town will vote to accept the Town Road Specifications as approved by the Selectmen and Planning Board in May 1976. Another, placed by request is to see if the town will vote to plow Senior Citizens driveways. One is to see if the town will appropriate a sum of money to buy books for the Bethel Library, since many Newry citizens use the library.

Last summer it was suggested that more insurance should be carried on the Sunday River School House and contents. An article has been placed in the warrant to cover this. Additional money has been asked in the Roads and Bridges account to cover repairs or reconstruction of the road at "Letter S" Hill, the entrance to the Branch Road and a section of the Orrin Littlehale or Monkey Brook

Road. The Selectmen are asking for four units of State Aid money ($2,132.) to be used for reconstruction of sections of Route 26. Four units of State Aid money, appropriated last year, with matching State Funds and a Special State Aid Fund, are scheduled to be expended on the Sunday River Road near the residence of Fred Burk this summer, and a State project on Route 26 is scheduled to start in May of 1977.

The Selectmen met Monday and completed work on the Annual Town Report. The Clerk, Treasurer's and Collector's Reports were accepted and the report was given to the printer. At the close of books Dec. 31, $3,132.30 in taxes remained unpaid, from a commitment of $56,842.73. Of this amount $713.02 is resident and $2,419.28 non resident. Tax liens will be placed on all real estate on which the taxes remain unpaid, sometime between Feb. 3 and June 3. The Treasurer's cash balance at the end of the year was $24,892.19. This together with accounts receivable totaled $58,538.98, with liabilities of $891.19, for a balance of $57,647.79 in favor of the town. Total receipts for the year were $114,918.06, with $90,025.87 paid out in Selectmen's warrants. At Monday's meeting it was voted to take $8,000. from the Treasurer's cash balance and place it in the Day In Day Out Savings Account in the bank. This added to the present balance will make $12,634.02 in this account, to draw interest. It will be available to the Treasurer when needed. Two more articles were added to the Town Meeting warrant, one to see if the town would vote to accept an ordinance against loitering, and one to see if the town would vote to set the pay of town officials.

FRANKLIN GRANGE #124

Franklin Grange No. 124 met in the Juvenile Room Jan. 3 with three visitors from Bear River present. There were three non-members present for the program.

This program was a belated Christmas party and New Year's combined.

As the Lecturer's theme is "Bells" this year, bells were made and placed on each station. These were tied with the Grange colors.

The Lecturer's station had a real school bell which had been rung many times by her while teaching school and came in very handy in calling the Grange to order when attention was needed.

The program began by all singing Auld Lang Syne followed by the song "The Grange Bells Are Ringing," written by Olive P. Davis, to the tune of "The Bells of St. Mary's".

The members then wrote mottoes on bells cut from construction paper to be placed around the bulletin board.

A candlelight service was carried out by Lettie and Carl Brooks. Roll call—What would you do differently if you could live last year over again; Carl Brooks danced his dolls; An original poem on "Santa's Accident" by Olive Davis was read; gifts were distributed. Refreshments and a social hour followed the program.

The next meeting will be on Feb. 7. Please note that Pomona meets with Franklin Grange on Feb. 1.

Feb. 7 will be honoring Thomas Edison, the inventor. Please have something for the roll call on his life.

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.

"...the first faint cry of the new-born year... All nature rejoices with one joy." Thoreau

The sun was bright when I went for my first real snowshoe jaunt of this year. New Year's Day I had been for a short distance into the woods but this time was much longer. It was one of those splendid days when the crunch of the snow shoes and the joy of living were all anyone would ever wish. I struggled down the bank to the pond's edge. Once there I looked idly around. Then as I started, my snowshoes went deep down with a crackle of breaking ice. I was startled for a moment, wondering if I could be in the water. Instead I found there were four layers of shell ice formed when the water was high, lowered, and formed again with air spaces between each forming.

I crossed to the other shore and again found the same situation through the low growth until I reached the Sanborn River. Scanning this keenly, I decided that it was safe, someone else had come to enjoy the river before me. From there I made my way up a short distance then again found shell ice as I tried to cross to the other pond. This was too hard traveling so I kept up the river a little way farther.

The brave woodpeckers were clinging to the large boles and overreaching branches, making short flights, pecking now and then, and chattering aimlessly as if unable to keep still. They were putting in their time in a dull way, like storm bound travelers at a country railroad station. Gazing a while on the spot where they vanished, I then sauntered across the grove of trees, and out to the shore where in summer the lily pads are thick enough to almost walk on. I crossed the mouth of the Cad Whitman Brook and on to the back shore of the Big Pond.

The wind had played across the pond. The snow instead of finding rest at once, like the snow that falls into the tranquil forest; it had been rolled, beaten, and swirled into pits and hollows, like pebbles and sand in the pot-holes of rivers. Finally the angles were worn off and curved into small drifts. Later they'll melt away and sing their way to the sea.

I reached the end of the pond and left to go to the falls. A few clouds shut out the sun, leaving a gray, gloaming-like darkness for a short time. The water at the falls was out of sight, all ordinary sounds were smothered beneath the ice. On one side bathed by the spray, were series of little shelves. The middle forms where the water was more forceful giant icicles had formed in endless varieties.

Following the brook toward the pond, I found it open in a few places and trickling over sand between arrowy lace-work. The sun danced on the water and on the lacy collars of ice that rimmed the rocks. I stopped a short time by the edge of the stream. Coming down over a little rise, I abruptly left the brook and faced Overset Mountain stenciled against the afternoon sun.

I crossed here to the road-side of the pond where a full view of the valley was easily seen. These ponds cupped in a hollow of forested hills, wore eyelash fringes of spruce, fir, and pine on the opposite shore. Beyond, rose the irregular mountains: Patch, Edgecomb, Round, Long, and Overset.

A low batting of clouds now hung over Edgecomb as I plodded up pond and home.

Later, before bed time, I could see the moon over Noyes Mountain as it rose to send its path across the pond picking out my Oxford Pomona met with Bear Mountain Grange at South Waterford, Jan. 4, for the first meeting of the new year. There were only 38 out because of the storm that day.

The Deputy instruction meeting for all subordinate and Pomona officers is to be held at South Paris Grange Hall on Jan. 29 at 3 o'clock on a Saturday with a pot luck supper being served. Everyone contributes to that.

Cancer Insurance was discussed at some length.

As the Lecturer was not present Hazel Conant filled the chair and the Address of Welcome was given by Sister Hamlin, Master of Bear Mountain Grange. The response was by Carl Brooks, Franklin Grange.

As this was Legislative Night, Hugh Roak, Master of Oxford Pomona, presented the resolutions that were taken up at State Grange. Other speakers on legislative work were John Applin and Fred Judkins.

This week has been moving week at Sucker Harbor. Some moving in some moving out. John O'Hearon moved his family to the former Arthur Allen farm now owned by Mildred (Hazelton) O'Blenes. When the two boys took the dogs down on their chains the dogs gave them a run for their money. The road was slippery in places so the boys were down quite a lot and the dogs on top just like football. We will miss the school bus stopping, night and morning.

Several attended the funeral of Eugene Hazelton Tuesday.

Doris Lawrence went to Lewiston Thursday for her new lens.

Clarence Seavey is critically ill at the Veterans hospital, Togus. His mother, Mrs. Leona Yeaton and Lucius Newton go to Togus every day.

Phil Hyam has a riding snow blower and he has been busy all week. He sure helps the shovelers. David Broberg was over

John Estes Jr. is a patient at Norway hospital with a bad leg.

Mrs. Jane Perry and three, have returned to their home in Harrison after several weeks visit at the home of her brother, John O'Hearon and family.

Mrs. Janet Cohen was at Portland for doctor's appointment on Jan. 11. Her mother, Phyllis Hyam and Loie O'Hearon accompanied her.

GRANT RECEIVED AT UMO FOR FACULTY/STUDENT EXCHANGE PROGRAM

The Institute for Quaternary Studies at the University of Maine at Orono, which is involved in studies of the most recent period of earth history, has received a $6,000 first-year grant from the Rockefeller Foundation to provide an exchange of faculty and students among UMO, the University of Bergen, Norway, the University of Stockholm, Sweden, and the University of East Anglia, England. Purpose of the grant is to provide an exchange of ideas and to accelerate the development of cooperative research programs as well as to aid in the training of Quaternary-oriented students. The exchange will start during the coming spring semester.

UMO RECEIVES TWO STEREO PLOTTERS AS GIFTS

The University of Maine at Orono has received as gifts two stereo plotters for producing topographic maps from photographs. The machines are already in use in civil engineering and forest resources courses and are a major factor in the move to provide a new UMO bachelor of science degree program in surveying engineering. The program has been conditionally approved pending outside funding and will be the only such program in the United States, if funding becomes available.

Postal Service Hearing
A study of the Postal Service released last month by the House Committee on Post Office and Civil Service is subtitled "The Necessity for Change."

I think this subtitle sums up the feeling of Maine people about the postal service.

Slow mail delivery, lost letters, machines that are as adept at crunching packages as sorting them—all have become the subject of cartoons, jokes and stories.

That is not to say that the postal service is a lost cause. It is relatively cheaper and enormously more efficient than the postal services of other countries.

And there are examples of outstanding service. One woman in Lincoln County wrote me that her copy of The New Yorker Magazine was delivered on time, even though the address label had fallen off. The local postmaster knew the subscribers in the area, and made certain that each subscriber had a magazine.

But these facts do not excuse the postal service from responsibility for deteriorating service, and there is no question that Congress will soon act on a plan to improve the system. What is not yet certain is which of the various options for change will prove to be best in the long run.

To help Congress make the decisions, we established last year the Commission on Postal Service, a blue-ribbon study commission charged with finding out by March 1 what went wrong with our attempts to improve postal delivery, and what our best options might be in the future.

One of the commission's first acts will be to hold public hearings, and it will begin the nationwide series of meetings in Portland on Jan. 18. The hearing will begin at 9 a. m. in the Aragon Room of the Holiday Inn on Spring Street, and individuals, businesses and organizations are welcome to testify.

Those who wish to testify may contact Frank Pomarica at the Portland Post Office, 775-4412.

My Maine offices would also be happy to help. Organizations and businesses are asked to send in 15 copies of their testimony in advance of the hearing, if possible, and individuals who have written testimony are asked to bring three copies to the hearing.

CRIME PREVENTION LIST AVAILABLE FROM MAINE STATE POLICE

The Maine State Police has available for the public a Crime Prevention List.

"In an effort to minimize the dangers of burglary, we have put together a Crime Prevention List that we hope will help citizens in the prevention of crime," said Col. Allan H. Weeks, Chief of the Maine State Police.

The Crime Prevention List, available from any Trooper or State Police barracks, lists 15 items citizens are advised to do to help reduce the possibility of burglary or breaking, entering, and larceny of their homes.

The list also provides for writing in police telephone numbers, and gives the telephone numbers of all the Maine State Police barracks.

And, as Col. Weeks said in the Crime Prevention List, "Effectiveness in stopping crime is only as good as the communication between the community and law enforcement. We must have a continuing partnership dedicated to the prevention of crime."
